Introduction

This document is a generalized summary of RG&E's gas rates. For a complete description of terms and conditions of service, please refer to RG&E's tariffs as approved by the New York State Public Service Commission (PSC). Our tariffs are available online at www.rge.com. If you have any questions about this rate summary, please contact our Customer Relations Center at 1-800-743-2110.

Gas Service

Your natural gas bill is made up of delivery and supply charges. The delivery charge is what you pay RG&E to transport natural gas to you through our gas pipes. The supply charge is what you pay for the natural gas you use.

RG&E is your gas delivery company. For the purchase of your natural gas supply, you have the option of choosing RG&E or an energy services company (ESCO, also known as a supplier). Under either option, RG&E will continue to deliver your gas, safely and reliably. If your gas supply is interrupted, you have a natural gas emergency or you have questions regarding your gas service, RG&E will be there for you.

Overview of Gas Supply Choice

As an RG&E customer, you may choose to buy your natural gas supply from either RG&E or an ESCO. If you choose RG&E as your supplier, your price for natural gas will be a variable rate that changes monthly and is based on our cost for the gas. You also have the option to purchase natural gas from a variety of ESCO's. You can obtain a complete list of qualified ESCO's at www.rge.com or by calling our Customer Relations Center at 1-800-743-2110.

There are two delivery options available for customers who choose to purchase their natural gas supply from an ESCO. The Service Classification No. 3 (SC3) option originated in 1987 and is only available to large commercial, industrial, and municipal customers that use more than 35,000 therms per year at a service point. The Service Classification No. 5 (SC5) option originated in 1996 and is available to all residential customers and smaller commercial, industrial and municipal customers.

Definitions of Selected Terms

Minimum Monthly Charge is based on 28 to 33 days of service and will be prorated if the billing period is less than 28 days or more than 33 days. This charge is billed to you whether or not you use any gas.

Delivery Charge is what you pay RG&E to deliver gas to you through our gas pipes, and is based on the amount of gas that you consumed in your billing period.

Weather Adjustment moderates natural gas delivery bills during any extreme weather from October 1 through May 31 for space-heating customers. If temperatures during the billing period are colder than normal, customers may receive a weather adjustment credit. If temperatures are warmer than normal, customers may receive a weather adjustment charge.

Delivery Revenue Surcharge is used to pay the Gross Receipts Tax imposed by New York State and/or local municipalities. The rate will vary depending on the city, town, or village in which you reside and may change from time to time based upon state or local government actions. It is applied to the subtotal of all other delivery charges shown on your bill.

Gas Supply Charge is the cost of the actual natural gas plus the transportation costs to deliver it to RG&E's system. This cost will vary month to month based upon the market price for natural gas.

Merchant Function Charge reflects RG&E's administrative costs of obtaining your natural gas supply. Customers with an energy services company (ESCO) are not charged for this service.

Transportation Rate Adjustment is a charge that reflects the following components: interdepartmental sales, PSC transition cost surcharge, and the research and development surcharge. Only customers with an ESCO receive this charge.

Supply Revenue Surcharge is used to pay the Gross Receipts Tax imposed by New York State and/or local municipalities. The rate will vary depending on the city, town, or village in which you reside and may change from time to time based upon state or local government actions. It is applied to the subtotal of all other supply charges shown on your bill.

Sales Taxes may be applied to your bill in two forms: County Sales Tax and State Sales Tax. The New York State portion of the Sales Tax, as well as the County portion for some of the counties, does not apply to utility services for residential purposes. These taxes may change from time to time based upon state or local government actions.

Late Payment Charge will be assessed at 1.5% per month on any unpaid balance, including service billing arrears and unpaid late payment charges.
