

Member of the Iberdrola Renewables Board of Managers and Audit Committees.

Eduardo received a Bachelor of Science from Louisiana State University. He is a Certified Commercial Lender, and has received honorary doctorates from the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, and the Universidad Tecnologica de Santiago, Dominican Republic.

NOTEWORTHY EXPERIENCE:

Eduardo's 45-year professional career spans government service, banking, and business consulting. Eduardo was appointed as U.S. Ambassador to Spain and Andorra, where he was involved with issues such as national security; foreign investment; intelligence; defense cooperation; and commercial, trade, and economic issues.

Eduardo served under President George W. Bush's administration as the first Director of the newly created U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), where he led a team of 15,000 to enhance national security, re-engineer processes, and establish a brand identity for UCSIS. At that time, he also served as Chairman and CEO of the U.S. Export-Import Bank, where he led the financing of complex transactions in transportation, technology, and energy projects.

Eduardo's experience prior to public service includes multiple global executive roles with Bank of America, where, after 24 years of experience, he retired as president of its International Private bank.

Eduardo currently serves as Chairman and CEO of Atlantic Partners Group L.L.C., a consulting group that offers strategic, geopolitical and business advice to clients seeking to maximize their domestic and transatlantic business opportunities.
