Be safe: Pipeline markers show the way

Since natural gas pipelines are underground, line markers are sometimes used to indicate their approximate location.

The markers display the material transported and the pipeline operator's name and phone number. Markers only indicate a pipeline's general location and cannot be relied upon to indicate the exact position.

Because many lines are not marked, it is critical that you contact Dig Safely New York at 811 prior to any excavation.

Safe digging is no accident

Whether you're a contractor or homeowner doing an outdoor project, having underground facilities marked is essential to protect yourself from injury and prevent damage to underground utility lines.

Know what's below.
Call before you dig.

It's free and easy — simply call Dig Safely New York at 811 two working days (not including the day you call) but not more than 10 working days before you plan to start your project. All utilities will then mark the underground facilities in and near the work zone.

It's time for toe-tapping and finger-snapping
