Section 2 - Terms and conditions of Residential Agricultural Discount program

These are the terms and conditions governing the contract with you for enrollment in the Residential Agricultural Discount program. This agreement is between RG&E and you, the applicant. By signing this application, I acknowledge that I understand the following:

- This year's program will be administered September 1, 2026 through August 31, 2027, with the monthly discount available until funding is no longer available through the New York Power Authority's (NYPA) Recharge NY program.
- The discount amount will be calculated each month and will vary based on how many people participate, the amount of electricity used by each participant and available funds from the NYPA's Recharge NY program. The discount amount is then multiplied by my monthly billed kilowatt-hours and the discount will appear as a credit in a separate line item, "Res agricultural discount," under the "Electricity Delivery Charges" noted on page 3 of your bill. The credit will not exceed the net total monthly electricity delivery charges.
- The 2026-2027 discount begins with meter readings on or after September 1, 2026, and I must submit my application by July 1, 2026, to start receiving the discount in September 2026. If I apply after July 1, my application may not be processed until after the September 1, 2026 start date and will need to allow up to 3 months for processing; the discount is not retroactive.
- It's necessary to reapply every year by July 1 to determine continued eligibility and to start receiving the discount with the meter readings starting in September. Applications accepted after July 1 may not be processed until after the September 1 start date; allow up to 3 months for processing.

I also represent that all information included herein is accurate and true, and that any intentional misrepresentations may result in my disqualification from receiving the Residential Agricultural Discount and that I will be responsible for reimbursing RG&E for any credits received.
